Imagine the power of convening 100+ student leaders from HBCUs to discuss the role of black leaders in business – is that somewhere you’d like to be?

Goldman Sachs invites you to join us for a three-day summit focusing on networking, skill-building and dialogue as we convene student leaders from Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCU) around the country at the 2nd Annual Goldman Sachs HBCU Leadership Summit!

Highlights include:

• An opportunity to build relationships with Goldman Sachs professionals, including HBCU alumni and 100+ HBCU student leaders

• Immersive case studies and workshops designed to elevate your leadership skills

• Insight into how black professionals at the firm are inspiring, leading, and succeeding in a variety of roles across the firm

Selected students will have the opportunity to interview for internships and full-time positions.

Goldman Sachs will provide domestic travel within the U.S. and hotel accommodations.

If you have any additional questions, please reach out to the Diversity Recruiting team at DiversityRecruiting@gs.com.